Federal Council boosts access to foreign infrastructure projects

The Federal Council gives the Swiss economy better access to foreign infrastructure projects. This decision goes hand in hand with SERV's Pathfinding Initiative. As part of the federal government's initiative, individual organisations in the Swiss export landscape, in particular SERV, Switzerland Global Enterprise (S-GE), Swissmem, Swissrail and specialised federal agencies, are enhancing their collaboration and operating as "Team Switzerland" abroad – with the objective of boosting their joint presence internationally and making it easier for Swiss SMEs to supply such projects.

SERV continues to support Swiss exporters during the COVID-19 pandemic in 2021

Swiss Export Risk Insurance SERV extends its measures to support the Swiss export industry due to the economic impact of the COVID-19 pandemic. SERV first adopted these measures on 17 April 2020 and has extended some of them several times. As part of these measures, SERV is temporarily lifting the subsidiarity rules, simplifying its internal processes to process transactions more rapidly, relaxing its Swiss content requirements and increasing its cover ratios for some products.

SERV launches a climate strategy

SERV's climate strategy will support the Swiss export industry in addressing climate change and incorporating the issue into its business operations. The three cornerstones of the strategy include the handling of SERV's own greenhouse gas emissions, integrating climate risks into business operations and SERV's contribution to decarbonising the economy.
